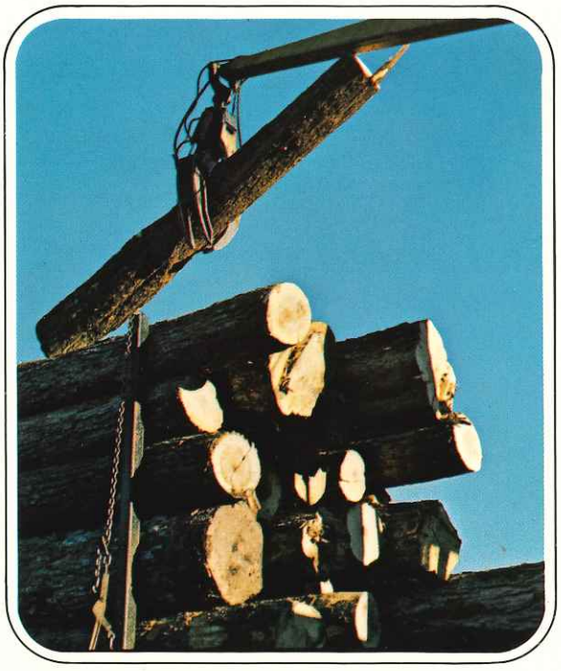
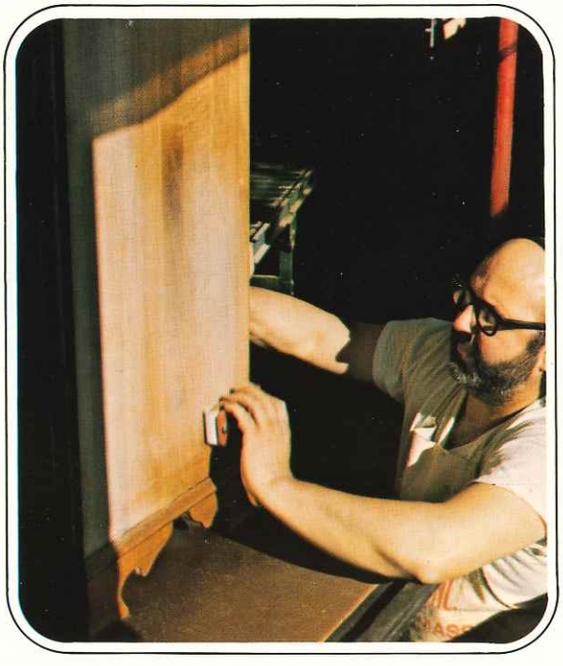
Moosehead Manufacturing Company, Monson and Dover-Foxcroft, Maine

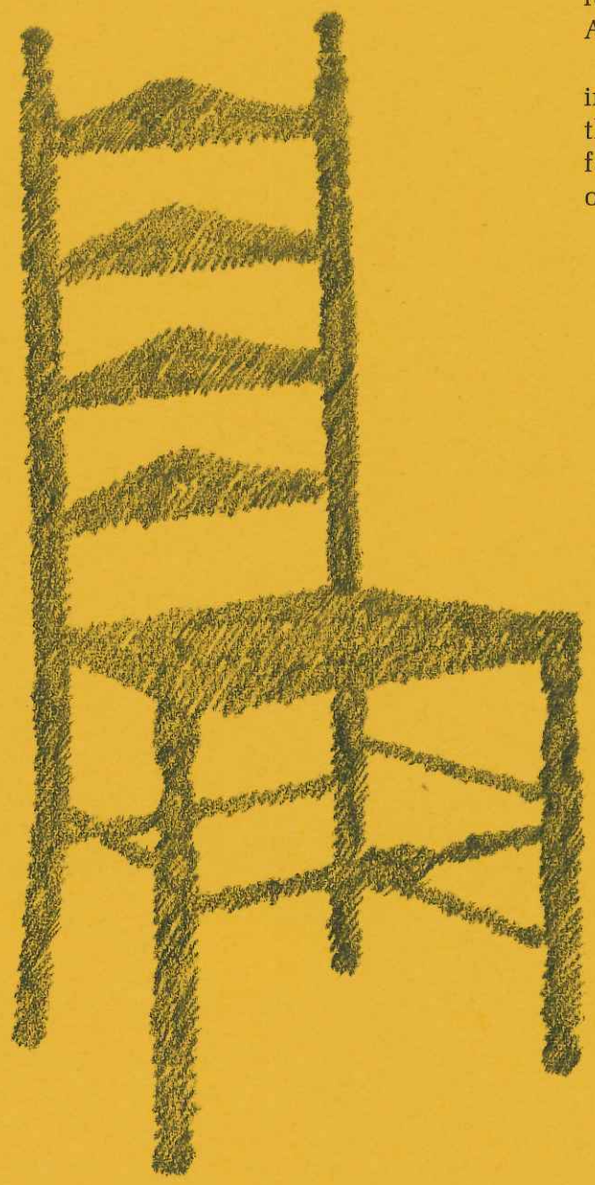


Unloading of newly cut logs at Moosehead's own sawmill, Monson, Maine.



Hand-sanding is one of the steps in careful finishing of Moosehead pieces. Choice wood is expertly crafted in the tradition of Colonial America to create The The Moosehead Collection.

THE MOOSEHEAD COLLECTION



The Moosehead Manufacturing Company was founded in 1948 at Monson, Maine. In its 23 years of operation, Moosehead has become famous for its excellent design and craftsmanship of Early American furniture.

Today, we are proud to have two plants, located in Monson and Dover-Foxcroft, Maine, where more than 200 men and women are engaged in the manufacture of The Moosehead Collection...fine furniture crafted in the tradition of Early America.

Moosehead furniture captures the essence of Early America. Each piece in our collection reflects the simplicity of design and the solid, sturdy construction our forefathers handcrafted with pride. Inspired by the tradition of Colonial America, Moosehead furniture is also created with an eye for the needs of modern living. It is a beautiful, comfortable and durable complement to today's decor. Just look at the features that make The Moosehead Collection distinctive:

WOOD.

We use only carefully-selected Hard Rock Maple and choice northern hardwoods in the construction of Moosehead pieces. Hard Rock Maple was especially cherished by pioneer furniture craftsmen because its rich, close grain and natural hardness gave a rugged beauty to their handiwork. Today, it also lends an authenticity to our Early American workmanship.

GRAIN.

No two trees are exactly alike and the variations in the grain and pattern of wood used in Moosehead furniture add to the distinctive style and charm of the entire collection.

FINISH.
Each piece of Moosehead furniture is painstakingly sanded, finished and hand-rubbed to a deep, mellow antique lustre. This finish provides a lasting protection against the wear of everyday use, as well as a perfect color highlight to the natural beauty of our wood grains.

CONSTRUCTION.
At Moosehead, our craftsmen concentrate on building durability and comfort, in addition to lasting beauty, into our fine furniture. Dedication to precision in every detail of design and construction insures the excellent quality of Moosehead pieces. Our furniture is constructed to allow the wood to adjust to changes in temperature and humidity without splitting or warping. Tables, chests, dressers and buffets are strengthened with corner blocks and braces. Chair backs and graceful curves are steam-bent for sturdiness. Seats are expertly contoured for comfort. Mortise and tenon joints form a tight, almost unbreakable bond to provide rugged resistance to wear. All drawers are thoroughly dust-proofed and dovetailed. All case pieces are mounted on casters for easy movement. These are just a few of the features built into Moosehead furniture to insure its enduring quality throughout the many years of use you will give it.

SELECTION.
Moosehead offers a complete collection of fine Dining Room, Bedroom and Occasional Living Room furniture crafted in the Early American tradition. You can choose from a wide selection of matching and coordinating styles, created to reflect the distinctive character of a bygone era and to enhance the beauty of your home.

The finishing touches put on every piece of Moosehead furniture both enhance and protect the beauty of the wood. Its grain is first highlighted by painstaking sanding and staining. Sealers and top coats further enrich the depth and sheen of the finish, which is meticulously sanded and hand-rubbed to its ultimate lustre.

At Moosehead, we take care to build the utmost quality into all of our furniture, so that you will share our pride in the beauty and durability of our craftsmanship. To keep your Moosehead furniture looking its best, here are a few household hints to use in repairing minor blemishes to fine wood finish. If you have any questions, consult your authorized Moosehead Furniture dealer.

Water Marks: Even a thick coat of wax cannot prevent rings or marks from forming when water is allowed to stand on the finish for an extended period of time. If water marks appear, you may (1) gently apply polish or wax with a very fine steel wool (#000 only) or (2) place a clean thick pad over the ring and press with a WARM iron, repeating until ring disappears.

Minor Scratches: Rub thoroughly with a wax stick in a matching color. Wipe with a soft, dry cloth and apply polish of your choice.

Alcohol Spots: Dip your finger in paste wax, silver polish, linseed oil or moistened cigar ash and rub onto spots. Rewax.

Candle Wax: Harden wax by holding an ice cube on it, taking care to wipe up melted ice instantly. Remove as much wax as possible with your fingers. Gently scrape remainder with a dull knife. Apply liquid wax with brisk strokes of a soft cloth and wipe dry with a clean cloth. Repeat, if necessary.

Milk Spots: The lactic acid in milk or foods containing milk or cream will remove varnish and paint from furniture surfaces. To avoid milk spots, wipe up spills immediately. To remove spots, clean with wax and follow procedure for alcohol spot removal.
